

Dr Andre McLachlan, Ngāti Apa and Muaūpoko

PhD; PGDipClinPsych; PGDip HealthSci

Andre McLachlan is a Clinical Psychologist and Addictions practitioner based in the Waikato. He has a range of research, lecturing and workforce development roles. Andre is a father of six and has specialist interests in Indigenous approaches to Mental Health, Trauma, Addictions and Neuro-diversity. Andre enjoys creating and delivering interactive workshops to practitioners and whānau that enhance peoples engagement in new learning and increases motivation to learn more and directly apply new skills to their practice and whānau.